The Sirius is designed as a wave catching machine to suit all levels of riders from casual to advanced. The additional nose area allows it to pick up even the smallest of waves whilst the pulled in tail enables you to still drive hard once it gets a little juicier. The 2+1 setup makes the board super friendly for beginners, however more advanced surfers can ride it as a single for that more traditional soul surfing feel. If you require, you can even put a smaller centre fin in to get the most performance out of this super versatile ride. Working best in conditions from knee high to head and a half The Sirius is some serious fun, get on one and see for yourself what this thing can do.

The Vega is a speed machine, with it's very straight outline and aggressive hip/flyer. This board will fly down the line, but still pull a tight arc when you stomp on the tail. Designed to suit all levels of riders from casual to advanced this board will perform in fast down the line waves ranging from knee high to double overhead.

It will work particularly well for riders wanting a little more length to get additional paddle power for critical waves, but do not want the additional size associated with a longboard. Do yourself a favour, try out The Vega and light up some faces.

Back in the early 2000's nearly all of Bert's personal boards were concave decks with low rails. He loved the sensitivity and added flex. Then in 2015 Bert hooked up with Christian Fletcher in Sri Lanka. He had similar decks, a more savage step rail and the huge concave bottom. He gave one a go and was suitably impressed.. So he wanted to create a smaller wave version, that had instant speed off the first pump. There is a lot going on in this board, so watch the vid and read the extra info about each aspect...

The Boss was designed as a board for the average surfer in average conditions. With healthy volume, paddle power based on volume and area rather than a flatter rocker and lots of tail area, so you can cut back on soft sections. The board continues to carry as the power backs off, yet with outline curve through the tail and advanced rocker, so it's still loose to pump for speed and will fit in the pocket for a decent reo if required...

The 8Ball, If you wanna have a ball and rip it up...The Sunova 8Ball is a performance longer board that you can hook turns deep in the pocket.

The 8Ball, driven by the needs of surfers who want serious paddle power, but still wanna rip tight turns off the tail. We took some of the characteristics of our long time favorite performance shortboards and we put a longer board front end on. The result is a board that can catch waves like a longboard but surf off the tail like a shortboard.

We took the nose entry and flattened it for solid paddle power, then we took enough area out of the nose to keep the rails from catching on late drops. Then as you step onto the tail the curvy outline and performance rocker of the shortboard kick in and you are away, having a ball.

As competitive long boarding emerged, surfers started demanding a more versatile board that would give superior performance without overlooking traditional Longboarding. The Pro longboard combines a Full Performance, Thruster Set-Up with Sunova's Composite BalsaFlex Construction Technology to create a board so free and loose, no one can believe a Longboard can be surfed so radically.

The Longboard Pro is the ultimate performance longboard attaining that delicate balance between competitive edge and longboarding tradition. Definitely the most versatile board in the whole range.

The Big Boy ! If you are big, you have to go big!!

Anyone over 100kg and of a bigger stature can take advantage of a high performance longboard tailored to a larger person.

With a 24 inch width, it adds an almost shortboard curve to the outline.

The tight pulled running into a clean curve back to the middle, allows smooth yet still tight snaps as the board flexes under the weight of a heavier surfer. A nice balance of flex and Curve in one package. If you thought your surfing days were getting limited with the frustration of not catching many waves, revive your surfing on the Big Boy and be alive.

Bert has never really been a fan of traditional longboarding, as a competitive longboarder himself, he always felt that high performance longboarding was more appealing, throwing big hacks, full round houses with a few nose rides thrown in as well was better than just going straight and getting toes over... So The Oldy has the most possible performance features designed into a a traditional, legal competition log... Get back to the roots with flair with The Oldy!

THE SPEED is really almost like 2 separate boards. With its super straight outline it's made to fly. It picks up speed incredibly easy. But the tail is radically narrow and basically allows the rider to throw the board around on pure thought! It's amazing how this is even possible. One of the most versatile shapes in our range and in general...

I wanted a stable board that didn't compromise on performance. I got the stability from the wider nose. The tail is fairly narrow and plenty of outline curve combined with a lot of rocker and thin rails makes tight performance turns in the pocket easy. The extra rocker in the tail helps to ride out of critical turns in the pocket without catching the wider nose by shifting weight over the tail. Bigger sides and smaller rear give it a little more pivot in smaller surf. If you want to use this board in bigger waves then just replace rear with bigger fin for more hold and drive.

The CREEK received its name from our good friend Mr. Rick Weeks aka SUPTHECREEK. Over the last 4 years Rick has become somewhat of our master tester and approver of our SUP surf SUP range. With his intensive knowledge of all other SUPs on the market and his never effected time for constant 10 hours testing days this judgement is very much appreciated to us.

Over the last years he really understood better than almost anyone including ourselves our range and what each board really does and where it belongs. So it was only a matter of time before Rick asked Bert.

THE SEARCH is a special design, combining several different areas in one. The board has a pretty classic surf shape with a nice round outline, a lot of rocker, nice and thin rails, nose and tail.

Due to its length it also works really well in flat water as touring board, or as pure fun board due to its excellent stability. Weather you want to take your kids to play, or ride 6ft swell, do 20km downwind rides, or just simply flatwater paddle in a lake, this board is as versatile as it gets.

The TORPEDO was designed for the customer who like that surfboardy, flatdeck type of downwind board. A board that pure fun and easy to use.

It will perform best in downwind and just go and catch some waves and surf it. As far as a pure bop/tech style board goes you be better to go for the all rounder mainly due to a wider tail for kick turns.

Still has quite good flatwater speed for a board of this design. If you looking for a fun race board to surf, downwind, flatwater and even tech race if you can handle the thinner tail in kick turns then this is your board.

A race that starts in the ocean but then is a grind in the flat before returning to the ocean and you never know what the ocean will be like on the day. We tested it for months in everything and it failed to disappoint.

Requirements when designing was that it had to be stable for long distance, easy to ride bumps and control in general ocean conditions but also be competitive in the flat.

Perfect for downwind, rougher conditions, still flatwater.

The UNLIMITED FAAST PRO is Marcus' favourite board to paddle.

Originally he designed this board specifically for the M2O. He wanted a board that was going to perform in the best or worst conditions the channel could throw at it on the day. The result was mind blowing. It worked so well in epic downwind runs or just grinding through a flat ocean.

Since James Casey has had this board in Hawaii he has used it for every unlimited race he has entered. Already it is collecting some serious trophies to its name: and James and Annabel Anderson took out 1st Place at the OluKai 2017 on it. As well as a double win at the Maui to Molokai Challenge 2017 including Marcus' second place. Finally an unlimited board you can be equally competitive in smoking downwind or a grind.

The Balsa core paddle is the natural extension to the balsa flex boards. Super natural and super strong with the perfect flex and an absolutely stunning pure, raw and beautiful look this paddle is performance and look in one.

It's super strong and uses the same wood we use on all our Triple X boards.

The CARBON paddle is the lightest way to make paddles. Super clean and super strong with the perfect flex. The look of the carbon is used to allow it more flex than normal 3K carbon would. On top of that all CARBON blades get our mega thin rubber edge that will protect your board, while you don't even notice it. Just try knocking on it. Sounds cool!

This paddle if you want the best of all...

The SILVER WAVE paddle is made the very same way our full carbon paddle is made. Its super light and super strong with the only difference being the outside layer. This one uses Titanium clothe which we can digital print and it allows us to add some stunning design on the blade which gives this paddle its unique touch.

It's super strong and uses the same amount of carbon in the shaft as all our paddles.

The NALU paddle is the the color that you need for your balsa flex boards. Nalu has drawn up a dozen super colorful drawings with all the crayons he had not yet broken the tips of yet. Being 6 years old is what we wish to be sometimes, when you do not yet need to worry about coloring anything perfectly, because the anything is still pure and looks beautiful.

All NALU paddles are exactly the same layup as our carbon paddles, just with the outside layer using a special layer for the digital print.

Full-on performance down-the-line waveboard, the Wave 1 combines a parallel mid-section with a subtle hip through the stance to allow radical carving turns in the pocket of the wave. The bottom shape is single concave through the stance for increased grip during carving turns while adding rocker along the rail line to keep things loose. The diamond tail shortens the rail line while providing enough area behind the back foot for stability.

PW-WAV2124LV02X2-US201	79" x 26 3/8" x 5 5/8" x 124	XXX2Tec

Performance wave board with an easy-going character, the Wave 2 combines a wider maximum width with a narrower outline through the stance. The extra width provides good stability in sub-planing conditions and helps with earlier planing and upwind ability. The narrower tail/stance area keeps things loose and sensitive. The bottom is deep double-concave in the entry to vee out the tail. The double concave promotes early planing and a softer ride while the vee adds grip and sensitivity off the tail.

PW-WAVC113LV01X2-US201	74" x 26" x 4 15/16" x 113	XXX2Tec

Shorter and wider, the Wave C is an easy to ride board in any conditions. The wide nose and width provide extra stability during sub-planing conditions and extra lift and stability when climbing over whitewater. The lower rocker line and double concave entry gets it up and going early and upwind fast while the shorter length keeps swing weight down for snappy turns off the top.

PW-STYL111LV01X2-PB001	111L x 26 1/2" x 4 13/16" x 111	XXX2Tec

A low yet continuous rocker line gives early planing and high top speed along with smooth carving abilities. All sizes have deep Tuttle boxes for foil compatibility.

The perfect light wind kiteboard shape shares a lot of characteristics with a great mushy wave surfboard. These being that they plane at a low speed with low energy, can hold a rail and are still super shredable. Luckily for us we already had a spectacularly unique shape that when brought over to the kite world, will blow minds. Don't let the peculiar shape scare you, the Shroom is a light wind beast that can still power down the line and smack the lip out of little curlers.

A shape that will feel natural for the kite crazed surfer who wants to whip into waves and forget about the kite! The BOSS surfboard was designed as board for the average surfer in average conditions, making it the perfect shape to bring over to the kite line. The BOSS works in waves anywhere from just under waist high up to double overhead but is not equipped to surf really fast, heavy down the line waves.

The cut off shape has become more and more popular in the surfing industry and works especially well for kitesurfing. They not only have an aggressive riding style in small to medium waves, they edge upwind with the efficiency of a twin tip. The cut off shaped surfboards lift up out of the water as they plane similar as they feature a bottom shape that behaves more like a modern planning hull than a displacement hull found on a traditional surfboard.

Speed, power and control for when it gets BIG. The Falcon is the ultimate step-up board for those who are looking to tackle and rip larger surf. This board possesses constant curvature in its narrow outline with thin rails and a thumb tail making for smooth, fast, and consistent turning. Mix this with the single concave to vee, positive rocker and you're sure to have a board that does the name (Falcon) justice with its speed and fast-flying versatility.

The Board Factory Co., Ltd.

The Board Factory Co., Ltd. is what it says. The factory that makes our boards. Perfect! We created it to set up one of, if not the best board factories in the industry. Based on the Toyota Production System (TPS) or LEAN, the principles we use here come straight from automotive manufacturing.

We started The Board Factory Co., Ltd. to control the path of our products through the design phase from the customers dream into Bert's or our other designers heads with our systems through the factory to our partner shops and into the waves. Nothing is left unchecked or unplanned. Everything from your mind to our systems and into your hands...

This factory is situated app. 80km north of Phuket Island in Phang-Nga province in Thailand. It's an absolutely stunning setting. The hills on one side, and some of Thailand's most beautiful beaches it gives us the the mental power we need to constantly make the best boards. And YES there are waves. We are able to surf and test right within walking distance of The Board Factory and that's as much as you can ask for... .

See you over here, some day.
